Library Management China: A Special Annual Issue (2009) Call for Papers

- The international peer reviewed journal Library Management is publishing a Special Issue in 2009. It will be published wholly in Chinese and titled LM China. The first Special Issue was published in 2008.
- This Special Issue is now seeking papers from Chinese authors for inclusion in 2009 issue. The articles will be subject to the normal peer reviewed processes followed by Library Management. The accepted articles will be initially published in the Special Issue called Library Management China. But then will be translated for inclusion in the international edition of Library Management.
- In addition a small number of papers from the international edition of LM will be translated into Chinese to encourage a cross-fertilisation of ideas in our dynamic international profession.
- The suggested topic for this Special Issue is the growth of the library professional to meet new challenges, preferably in a national or international context.
- You are invited to submit an intention to submit a paper to both of the co-editors before the end of March 2009.
